INTEREST CENTERS IN N. Y. CAMPAIGN

Albany Voters Brave Snow Storm to Hear Stimson and Secretary Nagel.

PARKER AFTER TEDDY AGAIN

Nagel Supports Administration and Praises Taft.—Parker Says That Thousands of Republicans Will Vote Democratic Ticket.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Braving the first snow storm of the season, Albanians turned out in force tonight to greet Henry L. Stimson, Republican nominee for governor, and to listen to a discussion of National issues by Charles Nagel, Secretary of Commerce and Labor, in President Taft's cabinet. It was the first big Republican rally in Albany during the present campaign and the audience filled the auditorium from orchestra to gallery.

William Barnes, Jr., leader of the "old guard" forces, occupied a box. Speaker James W. Wadsworth, Jr., who also played an important part in the "old guard's" fight against direct nomintions, was one of the speakers in behalf of Mr. Stimson.

Secretary Nagel was the first speaker. "I do not come here authorized to say this thing or that thing," he said, by way of introduction, "but I am here to speak my own mind on National issues. The result in this State is bound to be of great importance to the nation. If you ask me about 1912, I say that is not the question because our country has a President, who is now staying awake nights to try to find out how nominations are to be made in 1912."

Secretary Nagel said that while in a measure manifestations of agitation in different parts of the country are unavoidable, it nevertheless is for those who realize the importance of stability to do what they can to have every election so far as may be determined, with reason, fairness and impartiality. Above all, he emphasized, it should be borne in mind that important as local issues may be, the ability of the National administration to carry out its pledges and to cope with the problems that are presented to it, is not to be forfeited or weakened. The question, he declared, is as to whether or not this administration shall be given the fullest opportunity to fulfill those pledges which found definite and precise expression in the last National platform.

"There is a disposition among the opponents of the Republican party," he said," to contrast the present administration with the last and to have it appear that even in some respects they stand in antagonism to each other.

"This, he declared, was far from the truth. The administration rendered a service of inestimable value in bringing the public mind to a realization of the questions and problems with which this country is confronted. It is needless at this time, he pointed out, to urge that a condition of things had arisen which called for a strong hand and an unwavering personality such as Colonel Roosevelt, to bring them to public cattention for answer. So much having been done, public sentiment having been created, the demand having ripened, the time come, he said, when it was for the government to formulate those promises and to cast them into permanent shape. Instead of contrasting two administrations, he continued, it ought to be realized that in point of fact they completely compliment each other. When the time came to look for the man who could give shape and construction to the demand which had been aroused in the public minds, the Republican party looked about it with deliberation and discrimination. It selected a man who had been a sympathetic and active member of the former administration and who had been most especially charged with the constructive work of that administration. That man was William Howard Taft."

For the rest Mr. Nagel analyzed the accomplishments of the present Federal administration, going deeply into the tariff, admitting that not as much had been accomplished as had been hoped for, but pointing out the fact that substantial progress had been made and the continuance of Republican administration means that this progress will be continued, while the placing of a Democratic administration in power means that all which had been gained in this direction will be lost.

Parker Fights Republicans.

Cortlandt, N. Y., November 3—"Let us cut out the cancer of Rooseveltism," said former Judge Alton B. Parker in a reply made here tonight to what he called the astounding address of Senator Elihu Root, delivered last week at Carnegie Hall, New York City.

"We learn that in this election," he continued, "thousands upon thousands of Republicans and independents intend to vote a Democratic ticket. We welcome their assistance and thank them for their appreciation that in this election there is a greater issue than the governorship of New York at stake.

"That was a most astounding address which Mr. Root delivered. Dare not revolt or worse shall befall you;

WIL[illegible]OW CAMPAIGNING

Secretary of Agriculture Criticises Democratic Policies—Talks About the Tariff and High Cost of Living—Features.

Rome, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Secretary James Wilson, of the Department of Agriculture, chief speaker at a Republican meeting tonight divided a discussion of the tariff and the high cost of living into three heads speaking first from the standpoint of the political historian, second the political economist and last a farmer for the nation at large.

Secretary Wilson referred to the policy of the Republican party from its inception to encourage the upbuilding of factories and shops and to the closing of the factories during the Cleveland administration of 1893-1897.

Recognizing the present cry of "robbed by the tariff," he said:

"The Department of Agriculture is in touch with all sections of the country. It has three thousand specialists making researches into conditions which interest the farmer. A few years ago nearly all our rice was imported. Along the Gulf of Mexico we now raise the equivalent of all the rice used in the United States. We import some but we also export some. Along the northern border States we make 500 tons of sugar from beets. Our last beet sugar crop was worth by products and labor nearly $100,000,000. Adopt Democratic policies and put sugar on the free list and the growth of beets and making sugar would stop.

"From California 42,000 cars of citrus fruits were shiped East last year. Take off the duty and we will get the fruit from Mediterranean countries where cheap labor prevails.

"Food products are dear and people are blaming the tariff for protecting food prices. Food cannot come from Europe. It is up to the people who buy farm products in the cities, towns and villages to look into their own affairs a little. The average profit put on meats last year by the retailers was 38 per cent. Is the farmer to blame? Is the tariff to blame?

"It would be well for people to give more attention to the transit of products from the farm to the table.

"But there is a reason in some of the increases. Our country is growing fast. Nearly 1,000,000 people come to us from abroad every year and perhaps as many more by natural increases. Most of the foreigners and many of the younger generations settle in towns. If a small percentage of the people of towns and villages would become producers and get the benefit of the high prices of products of the field, the equilibrium would soon be established; and the high prices may contribute to this very end."

FRANK J. GOULD MARRIED.

Edinburgh Paper Says Bride Has Name of His First Wife.

Edinburgh, Nov. 3.—According to the Scotsman, Frank J. Gould, of New York, was married at Edinburgh on October 29th.

In making the announcement the Scotsman says:

"The lady, singularly enough, bears the same name and surname as Mr. Gould's first wife."

In the entry in the sheriff's record, however, the names given are simply Gould and Kelly.

The ceremony which followed the Scottish procedure—a simple declaration before witnesses and the sheriff—was conducted with the greatest secrecy. After the marriage the couple went to Abbottsford, the former home of Sir Walter Scott, which Mr. Gould recently acquired as a residence.

Frank J. Gould's first wife was Miss Helen Kelly, a daughter of the late Edward Kelly, of New York. The marriage took place in 1901. Mrs. Helen Kelly Gould was granted a divorce in May, 1909. She was married to Ralph Thomas in New York last July, and the couple sailed on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse for a two months' honeymoon abroad.

Frank J. Gould and Edith Kelly, an actress, formerly on the New York stage, who have been much together of late, sailed on the steamer Mauretania in September for Europe. Mr. Gould, when questioned regarding his reported marriage to Miss Kelly, was non-communicative.

FIVE HURLED INTO RIVER.

Boiler on Dredge Boat Exploded—Women Were Injured.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 3.—Five men and two women were hurled almost across the Ohio river, and a big dredge boat caught fire and sank when the boiler exploded at Ambridge a few miles west of here tonight.

Engineer John Kennedy, who was standing near the boiler, was scalded and bruised, and is dying in a hospital. The women were in the boat's galley preparing the evening meal for the boatment, while the men were about the lower deck. They were all picked up in the river after the boat, a mass of flames, went to the bottom.

A SEVERE NORTHEAST STORM.

Along Carolina Coast—Vessels Seek Harbor.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 3.—A severe northwest storm prevailed on the Virginia, Maryland and Carolina coasts today, the wind at Cape Henry having reached a velocity of 40 miles an hour during the afternoon. High seas were rolling and all vessels sought a safe harbor.

ALASKAN FRAUDS FEDERAL CHARGES

Conspiracy to Defraud Government of Valuable Coal Lands.

AN INDICTMENT IS RETURNED

Six Men Who Control Groups Will Have to Answer—High Officials Are Involved—Mayor of Seattle Also.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 3.—Federal indictments, charging conspiracy to defraud the government of more than 20,000 acres of Alaska coal lands valued at $200,000,000 were returned by a Federal grand jury today against six men who control three groups of coal lands in the Kayak Mining Field in Alaska. Each group represents 131 claims of 160 acres each.

Those indicted are Raymon Brown and William L. Dunn, of Spokane; Charles M. Doughton, formerly of Spokane, now of Seattle; former Mayor Harry White, of Seattle, now living in Los Angeles; Charles A. McKenzie, of Seattle, and Donald MacKenzie, of Washington, D. C., Seattle and Alaska.

The indictments charge that the six men had an agreement with the claimant whereby they were to have a half interest in the claims. This would give them more land than they were entitled to legally.

Among those who were assignees of one or more of the claimants were former Governor John H. McGraw, of Washington; Governor James N. Gillett, of California; Congressman McLachlin, of California; Henry T. Oxnard, of New York and California, president of the American Beet Sugar Company, and former Mayor Harry White, of Seattle.

Of the six men indicted, Charles A. McKenzie a real estate and loan agent, is in Seattle. His cousin, Donald McKenzie, is now in Washington, D. C.

Henry White was mayor of Seattle 15 years ago. He resigned suddenly after serving a few months. Former Governor John H. McGraw died last July. The McKenzies and the McGraw estate own the Alaskan townsite of Nelson, named in honor of Senator Knute Nelson, of Minnesota.

The claims were known as the M. A. Green group. Surgeon General Walter T. Wayman, of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, is a claimant in this group.

BIG PHILADELPHIA FIRE.

Two Buildings and Three Residences, Entailing Loss of $350,000.

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—One of the fiercest fires in the recent history of Philadelphia, tonight completely destroyed two large buildings that were supposed to be fire proof and three residences in Vine street, near Broad, entailing a loss of $350,000.

While virtually the whole department was busy at the Vine street fire another spectacular blaze destroyed the bottling works of the Cunningham Supply Company in Locust street. The Vine street fire originated on the second floor of the six story building the lower floors of which were occupied by the Hartford Rubber Tire Company, which had 150,000 automobile tires stored.

The five-story building of the Philadelphia Safety Storage Company, where there were 150 pianos stored and scores of rooms packed with household goods of every description, was completely destroyed as were three adjoining residences.

Rome, Nov. 3.—Six new cases of cholera and six deaths are officially reported in the past 24 hours.

MACON NEWSPAPER BURNED

Plant of Telegraph Destroyed and Printer Burned to Death.—Conflagration Due to Carelessness. Loss $100,000.

Macon, Ga., Nov. 3.—The Macon Telegraph building was almost completely destroyed by fire tonight. The loss is estimated at $100,000, with $80,000 insurance.

Raymond Clay, a printer, was burned to death. He had come to the city from Knoxville, Tenn., looking for work and had gone to sleep on the floor in the rear of the composing room. In the rush for safety by the employes he was forgotten.

Only about half of the files of the paper, dating back for 75 years, were saved.

The fire, as far as can be learned, started from a lighted match carelessly thrown into some paper at the back of the building. The flames leaped up and spread as though the building was tinder. The efforts of the firemen were chiefly confined to keeping the flames from spreading to the adjoining buildings, one of which is occupied by the Macon Evening News. The Telegraph plant was a total loss and the working force was transferred to the Evening News once.

FANATIC BLEW UP WARSHIP.

Havana Editor Says Government Was Informed About Destruction.

Meriden, Conn., Nov. 3.—Former State Senator Francis Atwater, of this city, who was publishing a newspaper at Havana, Cuba, at the time the Maine was blown up, commenting on the statement of Captain Brady yesterday at Kansas City, to the effect that the ship had been blown up from the outside, and that the government knew the details of the happening years ago, today affirmed the story.

Mr. Atwater says he sent a cablegram to this country on November 4th, 1899, telling of Zalvado's destruction of the warship, and his accomplices, the information, according to Mr. Atwater having been given him by a detective who told him also that Zalvado had been poisoned and that one of his accomplices stood ready to confess the full details of the plot.

At that time all the information obtainable, said Mr. Atwater, was sent to the then Secretary of War, but while the letter was acknowledged no further notice was taken of it so far as Mr. Atwater knew.

HONORED MISS ELLEN TERRY.

"Book of Welcome," Bound in Gold, Presented to Her Granddaughter.

New York, November 8.—President and Mrs. Taft, Mayor and Mrs. Gaynor, J. P. Morgan, E. H. Gary, of the United States Steel Corporation, William Dean Howells, the author, and some 300 other friends of Ellen Terry, united in surprising her this afternoon with a book of welcome," bound in gold and vellum and signed with their names.

Miss Terry arrived here today from Chicago and had no inkling of the presentation awaiting her. When she stepped to the platform of the Hudson theatre to deliver her lecture on "Shakespeare's Heroines Trimuphant," the audience arose and cheered for five minutes. Tears of gratitude came to Miss Terry's eyes, but she deferred any formal acknowledgement and began on her lecture.

Just as she was to leave the stage, Kate Douglas Wiggin, the author, stepped forward, carrying the book of welcome and read a preface of her own to the signatures.

CALLS PRENTICE TO TASK.

Mayor Gaynor Advises Republican Leader as to the Truth.

New York, Nov. 3.—Mayor Gaynor shot out another tart, terse little letter tonight, in which he advises Ezra Prentice, chairman of the Republican State Committee to "pray every morning for a while to God to direct you to tell the truth and see what fruits it will bear."

Chairman Prentice recently issued a statement in which he said he had reliable information that Mayor Gaynor had favored the nomination of Supreme Court Justice Martin Keogh for governor rather than John A. Dix. This was in refutation of a statement issued for the mayor that Mr. Dix had his choice.

RAILROAD WINS.

Young Man Fails to Recover in Wake For Injury.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 3.—The Raleigh & Southport Railroad Company won out today in the suit for $25,000 damagers brought against the company by Flowers Robinson for getting his foot crushed under a car near Fuquay Springs, while attempting to adjust couplings. The trial consumed two days and the railroad company proved Robinson took chances in violating the rules by going between the cars before the train came to a stop. He was an employe and had a reputation for recklessness, accoruing to evidence introduced.

CLEMSON WON AT COLUMBIA.

TRIBUTE TO DEAD MARKS AUTO RACE

Drivers on Atlanta Speedway Awaited Close of Livingstone's Funeral.

GILMAN WINS 100-MILE EVENT

A Drama New to American Automobile Racing.—Accident to Dawson's Car Lost Race For Him.—Feature Events Today.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 3.—A drama new to American automobile racing was enacted on the Atlanta Speedway just before the start of the 100 mile race today.

With the strains of "Nearer My God to Thee" floating from the grand stand band, far up and down the track, nine big racing cars lined up at the starting wire, the engines stilled for 15 minutes, while their drivers, with bared heads, waited for the last prayer to be said in another part of the city at the funeral of Al. Livingstone, who was to have started in the 100-mile race, but who was killed in practice here two days ago. After the hymn there was a long silence and then suddenly the band started a two step, the racing engines coughed and the big race was on.

Joe Dawson, in a Marmon, jumped into the lead and held it for 98 miles, when he was nearly two minutes ahead of the official American record for 100 miles for Class B cars. Then a shaft broke and he stopped at the pits for repairs. Six miles behind were his nearest rivals, Gelnaw's F. A. L., and Knight's Wescott car, which for over 90 miles had been running nose and nose, often with scarcely an arm's length separating them. Into the final lap these two ran still even, but in the last half mile Gelnaw pulled ahead and won by 100 yards from Knight. Dawson returned to the race just in time to take third place. The time of the winner was 1:26:17.62.

The races will continue for two days more. Tomorrow there will be eight events, featured by a 200 mile race. Just before the racing began the match event between Ty Cobb and Nap Rucker was declared off. It was announced that Cobb had received a telegram from President Navin, of the Detroit ball club, advising him not to race.

FOSS SPOKE AT LOWELL.

Massachusetts Congressman Takes Part in the Campaign.

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 3.—Schedule K, the wool and wool goods tariff, was discussed here tonight by Congressman Eugene N. Foss, Democratic candidate for governor.

"Senator Lodge says he voted for Schedule K, for fear the Senators from the wool growing States would join the Democrats," said Mr. Foss. "But President Taft tells the whole story when he says that the interests of the worsted manufacturers of the East and of the wool growers of the far West and the worsted manufacturers of other States, was sufficiently strong to defeat any attempt to change the woolen tariff."

Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, of Boston, another speaker, made a prophecy that Mr. Foss will have a majority of from 20,000 to 25,000.

"We will carry at least six of the 14 Congressional districts," he said, "and from present indications we will undoubtedly have enough Democratic members of the House and Senate to join with the progressive Republicans to bring about the defeat of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge for re-election."

MASONS TO ERECT STATUE.

To Washington as a Mason.—President Taft May Attend.

Washington, Nov. 3.—President Taft today was invited to attend in Alexandria, Va., on February 22nd, a meeting of the National Memorial Association, which is to be organized for the purpose of erecting a suitable memorial temple to George Washington as a Mason. The movement has been started by Virginia Masons, but it is said that it will become country-wide. Master Masons from all sections of the United States have been invited to attend. The President tentatively promised to be present.

DIX IS WAGING WARM FIGHT

Bitterly Assailed Republican Rule in Five Speeches in New York Yesterday—Takes a Final Shot at Roosevelt.

New York, Nov. 3.—John A. Dix, Democratic nominee for governor, preached the doctrine of "Republican extravagance" tariff and tax reform and the "high cost of living" tonight through New York's crowded Eastside. He campaigned by automobile through a driving rain, winding up shortly before midnight in Harlem, where he took a final shot at Theodore Roosevelt.

In all Mr. Dix addressed five meetings. The evening's work followed an afternoon spent in Brooklyn and Staten Island, where he held two receptions and addressed two assemblages. "Over taxation" and the Republican menace to business as charged by the Democrats was the text of the short informal speeches he delivered on these occasions.

At a rally at Cooper Union tonight Mr. Dix said:

"It is a time when we must set ourselves squarely before the people and must together direct our energies against any influence which interferes with civil rights, or which may interfere with progressive citizenship. I voice the hope of every loyal citizen when I say that a rebuke must be registered against any administration which deprives the citizen and tax-payer of the rights and privileges of a government for and by the people. The opposing party has promised the people of this country that the tariff should be changed so that the burden may rest lightly upon those who toil. That promise has not been fulfilled and we are today living under conditions which don't give proper regard to the welfare of the American workingman. The income or wages received by the average man scarcely permits him to pay for the actual necessaries of life for his family and himself."

At the new Star Casino in Harlem Mr. Dix reverted to his attack on Col. Roosevelt.

"My opponent's nominator, who is conducting all there is to this campaign on the Republican side," he said, "wishes to have you forget and overlook the record of the Republican party in this Nation and State. He wishes you to turn from the vital questions of the fight. He tried to satisfy you with abuse and noise, but I have too high an estimate of your patriotism and intelligence to think he will succeed."

BILTMORE GUARD SHOT.

Murdered in Forest Near Vanderbilt Estate in Asheville.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 3.—Clayton Davis, a guard of the Biltmore forest, stationed near George W. Vanderbilt's hunting lodge, was mysteriously shot yesterday morning, while at his post of duty. A man named Kears, of the Mills River section, was arrested late today and charged with the murder.

Davis, it seems, was with a fellow guard, Will Cogburn, when suddenly a rifle cracked and he threw up his hands and yelled he was shot. Cogburn, turning, thought he heard a man running down the mountainside. Cogburn ran for several miles for aid and upon returning found the unconscious form of Davis lying about two miles from where he left him, the dying man having struggled towards home.

He was carried to his home and died as he was being placed upon a cot. Dr. Hilliard and C. D. Beadle, of the estate, rushed from Asheville in automobiles last night, but were too late. A posse scoured the mountains today and came upon Kears who did not resist arrest.

He admitted shooting Davis, but claimed that he thought he was firing at a deer. Poachers have given much trouble recently, especially since deer have increased so rapidly in Vanderbilt's forest.

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—Eddie Collins, second baseman on the Philadelphia American league team, which recently defeated the Chicago National League Club for the championship of the world, was married tonight to Miss Mabel Harriet Doane. Arthur M. Lee, Jr., of New York, who was a chum of Collins, while the latter was a student in Columbia College, acted as best man.

The maid of honor was Miss Edna Mathews, of Lansdowne. Miss Hilda Miller, of Stephens City, Va., and Miss Anita Bagge, of Boston, were bridesmaids.

MAY LYNCH MURDERER.

Mexican Slayer of Women Captured in Texas.

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 3.—The Mexican who shot and killed Mrs. Lem Henderson at Hock Springs late yesterday, and who was being hunted by posses, was captured today 25 miles from the scene of the murder. He is now in jail at Rock Springs. There is great excitement and a crowd is assembling. The Mexican gave his name as Antonio Rodriguez, and admitted his guilt.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 3.—Owing to rain the final day flights of the aviation meet here were postponed until tomorrow, when J. C. (Bud) Mars and the McCurdy brothers will try for a record altitude over the Jamestown Exposition grounds and Hampton Roads.

DR. WASHINGTON COMPLETES TOUR

Noted Negro Educator Closes Itinerary of State in Wilmington.

ADDRESSES LARGE AUDIENCE

President of Tuskegee Institute Gives Members of His Race Some Wholesome Advice—Remarks Well Received.

Dr. Booker T. Washington, president of Tuskegee Institute, the foremost negro educator of the country and probably in the world, concluded his seven days' tour of North Carolina in this city last night, delivering an address in the Academy of Music to an audience that taxed the capacity of the house. Not only was every seat taken but the aisles downstairs were crowded with people, both white and colored, the north side of the opera house being reserved exclusively for whites.

Dr. Washington made one of his usual fine addresses, full of good and wholesome advice to the members of his race and he was heard with evident interest not only by the colored people, but the several hundred white people who were present. Dr. Washington and his large party of prominent colored men of this and other States arrived in the city at 6:50 o'clock last evening from Newbern on a special car attached to the regular train. Fully 3,000 people, among whom were a number of whites, crowded the approaches to the union station when the Washington party reached the city. The police were compelled to make a line in order that the members of the party could reach the waiting carriages. Dr. S. A. Peeler, president of Bennett College, Greensboro, N. C., was mistaken for Dr. Washington and immediately the crowd closed around the carriages and made it difficult for the local committee to handle the guests.

As early as 7 o'clock the colored people began to gather at the Academy of Music, forming a line extending nearly across the street. It was nearly 9 o'clock, however, before Dr. Washington and his party entered the opera house. The exercises were opened by Prof. J. A. Bonner, principal of Peabody graded school, who made a few remarks, and after a musical selection and prayer by Rev. W. H. Capehart, Bishop G. W. Clinton, of Charlotte, introduced the various members of the Washington party, and paid a high tribute to George F. King, press correspondent, who has been keeping alive the doings of the colored people of the State for some time, and R. R. Taylor, now director of industries at Tuskegee, both of whom were formerly of Wilmington. R. R. Moten, of Hampton Institute, Virginia, delighted the audience with a few witticisms and asked the negroes in the audience to sing some negro songs, which was one of the features of the meeting. Three songs were rendered in succession and they were a real treat, for as the man of Hampton stated, the white people can do nearly everything better than the negroes, but they have never yet been able to sing the negro songs, which, as he said, are not head music, but heart music. The audience sang: "In Bright Mansions Above," "I Want to be Ready to Walk in Jerusalem, Just Like John," and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot." Those who have heard negroes sing these songs at their protracted meetings can appreciate the treat the audience had in their rendition last night.

Mayor Walter G. MacRae was presented by Bishop Clinton and the Mayor in a few fitting remarks introduced Dr. Washington, who began speaking at 9:10 o'clock and spoke for about an hour and a half. In speaking of members of his party Dr. Washington said that while they were all born in the South, some of them

NO MORE COUPONS AFTER 12 TODAY

All Must be in Contest Office by Noon or They Will Not Be Counted—The Final Details.

No five-vote coupons will be counted after 12 o'clock today, so if any contestant in the Star's popularity marathon has any out they must be brought in before that time. This is most positive, and 12 o'clock noon is the hour all nominations close. The contestants after a hard preparation are now on the home stretch. The judges at the final counting will be instructed to count only subscription coupons.

Would Like Representatives.

It is not necessary that each and every contestant be represented, but it is much more satisfactory if representatives would be named by each of the interested contestants so that they may superintend matters and see just what system has been used to insure fairness to all.

On Monday call at the contest office and get a big envelope, or use your own envelope, placing a list of subscriptions, the money, and contestant's name, and drop that envelope in the sealed ballot box at the contest office, and the judges will open that box after the contest has closed and the final counting is about to begin.

Watch these columns daily for final instructions. The vote schedule will be just the same at the finish as when the contest first started, which was:

Four months' subscription to the Morning Star, $2.00, 600 votes; six months' subscription to the Morning Star, $3.00, 1,200 votes; one year's subscription to the Morning Star, $6.00, 3,000 votes; a five-year subscription to one address, 35,000 votes; a ten-year subscription to one address, 100,000 votes.

The above schedule will prevail until the final closing of the contest. Of course, the five, four, three and two-year subscriptions can not be clubbed in any manner. In other words, the paper must go to but one person. During the special offers, subscriptions from four months up were allowed to be clubbed together and a bonus certificate issued, but on the above, the original schedule this of course, will not be allowed.

Send Reserves.

If any of the young women have sent in subscriptions and received in exchange for them a slip calling for votes, remember that that is not a receipt for the votes, but the actual votes themselves, and this slip must be sent in in order to have the votes counted at the final counting by the judges.

Up to Last Minute.

Subscriptions will be taken at the contest office up to the last minute of the contest, that is, up to seven o'clock next Monday night. All subscriptions and votes must be turned in by that time, for nothing can be counted that is not here at the beginning of the final counting.

At Seven Sharp.

Next Monday night at seven o'clock the contest closes. Under no circumstances will any ballot or subscription be allowed to be put in the box after the ringing of the alarm clock, which will be in the office of the contest department.

Prizes on Display.

Yesterday the Contest Manager was furnished through the Murchison National Bank, of this city, with $600 in pure gold coin in $2.50, $5 and $10 pieces, covering the grand prize of $500 for all the districts and the two prizes of $50 each in the two districts for the boys. This money has been placed on display with the watches, diamonds and rings in Honnet's windows on North Front street, where they may be inspected by the contestants and their friends. "Gentle Lad" the Shetland pony, direct from the Sunnyside Stock Farm, Monmouth, Ill., is being cared for at the City Livery Company and with the cart and harness, which will arrive in a few days, will be presented to the winner next Tuesday morning. The handsome Ludwig piano is on display in the show window of I. Shrier, at northeast corner of Front and Princess streets, and the Turkish rockers, one for each district, are on display in the windows of the Wilmington Furniture Co., near Second and Princess streets. The two free trips to Cuba with all expenses cannot be displayed but the Passenger Department of the Atlantic Coast Line will be glad to give any information as to the delightful travel to the island over that famous route. The delights of Cuba in Winter do not need expatiating upon to all who have read of this quaint and picturesque country.

accept your chains, or feel the lash, cringe or be crushed, assert your right to name your executives and that right shall be definitely taken from you—that in all fairness is the sense of his speech so far as it relates to the issues of Rooseveltism which confronts us. But who is the special pleader who speaks and who is the client whose cause he advances? A matter of suggestion, an adept at inuendo, an adroit intellect, a clever politician. Such is the special pleader and his client we know better than before. And when we consider the past relations between them, a hollowness and lack of sincerity in the suggestion that Mr. Taft's re-nomination by the Republicans in 1912 is in anywise involved in a rejection of Mr. Roosevelt in the State of New York today, is clear.

"The argument is the customary one of a lawyer when he assures the jury that, if they find against his client they will incidentally imperil their own interests in some other direction.

"But let not any adherent of Mr. Taft's delude himself with the belief that a vote for Mr. Stimson is a vote for Mr. Taft's re-nomination; it is a vote for Root and Roosevelt, pure and simple. Nothing can impair Mr. Taft's personal prestige in his own party so greatly as a vote for the personal nominee of his private defamer. And who is this personal nominee of our Warwick, the new king-maker? Who but the close associate, the partner, the locum tenans of the senior counsel for the defense.

"And that same senior counsel for this defendant now at the bar of the people of the State, this same junior senator of ours, Mr. Root, gravely assures us that his junior associate, ADD INTEREST CENTERS only we will elect him governor, will dominate not alone his senior the artful advocate himself, but even their joint client, who lurks in the rear of their ambition.

"The Republican party machine which was defeated at Saratoga by a defection to Mr. Roosevelt's machine of many of its supporters, has been a tremendous evil in this State. Mr. Roosevelt seized the opportunity for his personal ends to swallow alive the opposition to it, beat it with its own forces and at its own game and substitute his personal nominee and his machine in its place. On its defeat the Republican, as well as the Democratic voters, of the State, may congratulate themselves, but their next duty is to prevent a substitution of the even more obnoxious Roosevelt machine."

Stimson at Schenectady.

Schenectady, N. Y., Nov. 3.—In spite of the slush covered streets, a fair crowd greeted Henry L. Stimson here tonight. Mr. Stimson said in part:

THE YOUNG MAN IN POLITICS

Wise Words of Senator Carter—It is a Duty Every Man Owes to His Country—Timely Admonition.

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 3, 1910.

Editor Star:—Suggested by the thoughtful letter written some time ago by former Governor Jarvis, of North Carolina, the young men of our State have had the benefit of much wholesome advice as to their political duties, coming from the pen of many of our most distinguished citizens, as well as from the many editorial comments of leading newspapers.

Although the question is of paramount importance at this time in North Carolina, the duty of the young man to take an active interest in the political affairs of his community seems to be occupying the thought of many of the leading men in various sections of our country.

I notice an excellent article upon the question from the pen of Senator Thos. H. Carter, of Montana, which appears as a contribution to a recent issue of the "Columbiad," the official organ of the Knights of Columbus, under the caption: "Should Young Men Enter Politics?"

I am enclosing the clipping, and will thank you to publish it in your next issue, should space permit.

Yours truly,

W. F. JONES.

Senator Carter's Wise Words.

Yes, young men should enter politics. The fact is, they cannot keep out of politics without disregarding their duties and obligations as citizens. This is a government of the people and if the people neglect the government they will pay such penalty as the neglect may impose. The man who neglects his duty as a citizen has no right to complain of bad government, for he is one of the chief causes of evil administration.

The young man should not only study public questions so as to be able to vote intelligently, but he should also engage in the political activities of the community of which he forms a part. He who seeks to excuse his indifference by alleging that politics and corruption are synonymous terms and that a gentleman cannot become mixed up with either, unconsciously contributes to the continuance of the evil of which he complains. If all the respectable, high-minded men of the community attended the ward meetings, caucuses and conventions, such affairs will partake of the character and standing of the best there is in the community.

There is a marked difference between politics and office-seeking. While I think it is the duty of every young man, and of every old man for that matter, to attend to political affairs with scrupulous fidelity, I cannot advise any young man to become an office-seeker. When duty requires that an official responsibility be assumed, the call of duty should be heeded, but he who makes office-seeking and office-holding an object of ambition from the beginning of his career is destined to meet many disappointments and little recompense for efforts put forth.

I advise every young man to seek success in his business or profession, yielding to public concerns such time and attention as may be necessary to insure wise laws, honest administration and pure courts of justice. When a full measure of business or professional success has been attained, political honors may be enjoyed if inclination leads the individual in that direction.

In rare instances nature fits men for mastery of the science of government, but such instances are exceptional. Edmund Burke is to statecraft what Shakespeare was to literature; Henry Clay and Daniel Webster stood in the same relation to statesmanship that any two of the few great authors occupied in the last century toward letters.

The cases cited are monumental and epoch making. For those of us who are traveling the every-day walks of life I think the correct rule is to respond to the duties of citizenship by giving close attention to public affairs and at the same time eschew office-seeking as a means of gaining a livelihood.

BUTLER DENOUNCES SIMMONS AND DANIELS

Butler is Not Now, Nor Ever Has Been Attorney For Any Fraudulent Carpetbag Bonds. Neither Has He Ever Advertised to Pool or Collect Such Bonds—He Will Furnish The Proof Conclusive Next Friday.

P. S. to the Public (No.2):

Since publishing my card to the public, on yesterday, my attention has been called to an editorial in The Raleigh News and Observer of the 22nd. inst., in which is copied what purports to be a statement from F. M. Simmons, in which he is reported to have said at Shelby: "A few years ago I denounced Butler in the papers of the State as a liar and a scoundrel. "If such a statement was made by him several years ago I did not see nor hear of it. If he is correctly reported I believe he is lying, because if he had used such language it could not have been kept a profound secret. He knows that if he had used such language that he would have heard from me and besides that he could not have, during these several years, succeeded in dodging me.

On next Friday, in the opera house at Raleigh, I shall denounce as unqualifiedly false the charge made by Simmons and Daniels that I am now or ever have been attorney for any fraudulent carpetbag bonds, or that I ever advertised to pool and collect such bonds. I shall furnish conclusive proof to support what I say and I shall also denounce the lying cowards who have made these charges as they deserve.

TEDDY GOING TO IOWA.

Crowds Cheered Him at All Stations —On a Slow Train.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Theodore Roosevelt spent a large part of today in walking through a string of sleeping cars on the way from his stateroom to the rear platform and back again. He was on board a train which puffed its way across Ohio and Indiana in such a leisurely fashion and made so many stops that he exclaimed: "This train visits through the country."

At all of the stations there were crowds which cheered and Colonel Roosevelt made a good many trips to the rear platform. It was his first trip since his return from Africa without a private car and the passengers all got acquainted with him before he reached Chicago tonight.

At several places the people pelted him with carnations. He made short speeches to a few of the larger crowds. "All I am trying to do in politics," he said at Warsaw, Ind., is to try to get things a little straighter, a little more decent."

Charles Grilk, Republican candidate for Congress, for whom Colonel Roosevelt is to speak at Davenport, Iowa, tomorrow, met the Colonel in Chicago and took him in an automobile to his special car on which he departed for Iowa.

EX-MAYOR GRANT DEAD.

Former New York City Executive Died of Heart Trouble.

New York, November 3.—Hugh J. Grant, twice mayor of New York City, and twice defeated for the same office, died of heart disease tonight as he was climbing the steps of his town house in East 42nd street. He was 55 years old.

Mr. Grant was born of Irish parents in this city and rose in Tammany politics to the rank of alderman, where, as a member of the notorious "boodle board," he made a reputation for himself by opposing the Broadway franchise glab, and refusing a bribe of $20,000.

TROUBLE IN CHICAGO.

Garment Workers Spent Day of Comparative Quiet—Minor Riots.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Peace offerings by several clothing concerns, full settlement by two companies, several minor riot scares, which failed to materialize and the report that the garment strike would extend to Eastern cities constituted today's activities in the garment workers strike. Tonight there is a well defined feeling among labor leaders that the back bone of the strike is broken and there is little fear that it will spread to other cities.

Washington, Nov. 3.—"Wildman and wild beast in Africa" is the title of the lecture which Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will deliver in this city on the evening of November 18th under the auspices of the National Geographic Society. It will be the first and probably the only public recital the former President will give of his Africa hunting trip.

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 3.—Trying to save her husband's savings of several years, Mrs. Susan Calwanic, 26 years old, was burned to death today and the home was destroyed by fire. The woman had carried out her year old babe, and returned to the house to secure the money when she was overcome by smoke.

Memphis, Tenn., November 3.—The ballots cast in the Memphis mayoralty election of 1909 will be recounted under the direction of Judge J. P. Young in circuit court. This was decided late today by Judge Young, in connection with the suit filed by former mayor Joseph J. Williams, contesting the election of Mayor E. Y. Crump, because of alleged irregularities.

Willoughby, Ohio, Nov. 3.—One man was killed, two seriously injured and several badly bruised in a traction wreck, which occurred near here today, on the Cleveland, Painesville and Eastern Railway. The dead man is an unidentified Italian laborer.

AFTER SUFFERING ONE YEAR

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Milwaukee, Wis.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world of it. I suffered from female trouble and fearful pains in my back. I had the best doctors and they all decided that I had a tumor in addition to my female trouble, and advised an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I hope I can help others by telling them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—MRS. EMMA LISE, 823 First St., Milwaukee, Wis.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

NEGRO MURDERED.

Shot to Death at Sharpsburg—Two Arrests Followed.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., Nov. 3.—The town of Sharpsburg was all astir yesterday over the murder of a negro, Galvin Dortch, which is thought to have occurred Tuesday night and which was discovered yesterday. Two negro men and a negro woman are held awaiting trial on the charge. News of the affair was received in this city during the afternoon yesterday, while by last night's midnight train, Nash county Deputy Wheeler lodged two negroes, William Spicer and Claude Terry, in the lockup here to be taken to jail at Nashville today to await the next term of Nash criminal court.

From what could be learned, the trouble started over a woman, and Liza Linzsay, colored, is being held under bond of $500 as it is believed that she has had some part in the matter. Tuesday night shortly after 8 o'clock the negro who was murdered, left friends and started to the home of this woman. A short time later a pistol shot was heard, but no attention was paid to it. However, it is now believed that this was the shot that occasioned the murder. The negro never reached the house, but was shot down, so it is believed, by an assassin who hid behind the corner of the home of the woman. Both Spicer and Terry are known to have made threats against the negro murdered, and shortly after the discovery of the murder they were arrested. There is no conclusive evidence that either of them did the shooting, through it is generally believed that William Spicer did the killing and that the Terry negro and the woman had a part in it. Dr. Battle, the Nash county coroner, held an inquest yesterday afternoon, and it was their find that he came to his death from a pistol shot wound. The negro is thought to have died within a few minutes after he was shot, as the ball struck him in the breast, cutting one of the leaders from his heart and he bled profusely.

A NEW DEPARTURE.

A new departure in the line of newspaper business for North Carolina has just been made by The Times of Raleigh. This big daily has reduced its price by mail to $2.50 per year, payable in advance. Some weeks ago this paper ran a special bargain price and the results were so flattering that the management decided to give the people of the State a daily newspaper for the price of $2.50 per year. The Times being a modern leased-wire telegraph paper, there is no reason why it should not have fifty thousand circulation within a year at that price. J. V. Simms, editor and publisher of the paper, announces at the same time that many more improvements are to be made in the near future and the reading public of the State will get a service in The Times that is unexcelled in the entire country. The Times will do no more credit business, but will be strictly cash in advance. This step places The Times in the front of all other dailies.

EXPRESS STRIKE STILL ON.

Conference Resulted in Sharp Rebuff. The Demands.

New York, Nov. 3.—A sharp rebuff for the striking express drivers and helpers was the outcome today of the first conference between th men and the companies. Hopes of a settlement had been high, but a positive refusal was made by the employers to the strikers demands for a "closed shop." Two of the companies also declined to treat with the strikers except as former employes.

The only gain made by the drivers was the promise of the question of wages and hours would be taken under consideration. Scant hope remains tonight of an early adjustment.

Some politicians make so many trails they can't keep all their tracks covered up.

If a sly fox wishes to avoid getting caught he should not take too many chances on getting his tail in a split stick.

It is said the hobbleskirt will prevent women from kicking. If it will do that for all "kickers", it is hoped a lot of men can be induced to wear hobbleskirts.

When you have an acute case of coryza don't make a mistake and call it lagrippe. Corzya is a cold in the head and lagrippe is some other kind of devilish thing that goes the whole hog.

A philadelphia man claims he has invented something that "will stick better than glue or anything else." Probably he has entirely overlooked the sticking qualities of Secretary Ballinger.

The Democratic scratcher might spoil the whole thing. Scratching never cured the spot that is scratched. Don't scratch. It gets nothing and is dangerous because it will do more harm than good.

In filing suit for divorce a Chicago woman alleged that her husband "doesn't come home four nights a week and is a regular devil". Probably it would take the evidence in court to fix the responsibility for his disposition to play the devil.

President Taft is going all the way to Ohio to vote next Tuesday. It is hoped enough has been said during the campaign to make him vote for real revision of the tariff, and if he can't do that he might put in one against "New Nationalism" for spite.

The people all over this country know something is wrong and circumstantial and direct evidence points to the Republican party as the cause of it. Anyhow, the times are out of joint and somebody has to be held to account for it. That's the reason the people will snow the G. O. P. under next Tuesday.

No man has a right to wonder why his city is not progressing and developing like other cities, if he isn't a member of some organization which is working to promote the interest and development of his city. Drones are supposed to do nothing and say nothing. A swarm of bees with too many drones in it makes no honey.

At Burgaw on Tuesday many ladies, school children and teachers heard the joint discussion between Dr. John M. Faison, Democratic nominee for Congress, and Geo. E. Butler, his Republican opponent. The ladies, the children and the teachers were for Dr. Faison. That shows what side the men ought to be on when they vote next Tuesday.

Says a lecturer: "Every man at some time or other must depend upon a close friend." In the meantime, a man need not be surprised if his friend is so close he wouldn't allow himself to be touched for the loan of quarter. Probably you have had some friend who was so close he would rather separate himself from you than to part with a nickel when it comes his turn to give the crowd a smoke.

Attorney General Wickersham has reversed the decision and judgment of ex-Attorney General Bonaparte nd Dr. Wiley as to what is whiskey. Probably they are all three right as to the article but differ as to the mere brand. Taste, rather than any intellectual process, will have to settle the controversy, unless they agree that all whiskey is whiskey but some whiskey is better than other whiskey.

SERIOUS SIDE OF ELECTION.

The political battle has been fought, the campaign feature of the contest will close now and the election will take place next Tuesday. It is an "off year" but it is one of the most important elections ever held in this country, for, more than anything else, it is a fight for needed relief from actual burdens imposed by the successive high tariffs of the Republican party. It will afford voters the opportunity to go to the lolls and by their ballots condemn the party which is fatuitously and blindly wedded to the policy and iniquity of taxing the masses for the benefit of the favored few.

The Republican party has gone to the extreme limit in levying a tariff for the prosperity of the favored classes and placing the burden upon the consumers of this country. They began upon the theory that the tariff laws should be protective to the extent that they should only be high enough to cover the difference between the cost of labor and the cost of manufacturing in this country and foreign countries. Greedy interests, however, and the desire of the Republican party to cater to the protection beneficiaries of this country have caused that party to go to the extreme in levying tariff taxes that have become burdensome to the people of the United States. This party clings stupidly to a policy which is ruinous to the masses and it needs to be rebuked at the polls. That can be done effectively in North Carolina by electing a Democrat from every Congressional District in the State.

Everybody feels the pinch of the high cost of living, and, wthout regard to party, the voters should go to the polls and cast their ballots against every candidate who in trying times like these has been a champion of the high tariff. A man's personality and ability have nothing to do with the support which he should receive. If he stands for a continuation of the burdensome tariff the people who are seeking relief will vote against their own interests when they cast a ballot for such a candidate. Something higher than friendship is involved in this election. Personal friendship counts as nothing when your friend proposes to go to Congress and vote to tax you outrageously for the benefit of special interests and trusts which exploit you. The personal grounds vote, therefore, is a vote of folly.

Every Democrat and every Republican who seeks relief from the hardships of the protective tariff should go to the polls throughout the Sixth Congressional District and vote for the Hon. H. L. Godwin, the Democratic nominee for Congress. He represents the people's side of the tariff question and other governmental policies and he should be re-elected to Congress by a majority so overwhelming that it shall be a powerful protest of the people against the iniquities of a tariff system which taxes poverty for plutocracy.

Mr. Godwin represents the principles for which the people of this District stand, and basing his claims alone on that fact he should be overwhelmingly elected. The Democrats from this District cannot afford, for many reasons, to allow Mr. Godwin to be either defeated or elected by a small majority. It would invite future strong contests, while if this District on Tuesday were to elect a Republican for Congress incalculable mischief would be done to our party interests, besides wrong would be done to burdened consumers who are hopeful of relief at the hands of Congress. The Star, therefore, heatily endorses the following from the Fayetteville Observer, concerning the claims of Mr. Godwin to the vote of the Sixth District:

"Mr. Godwin, our Democratic Congressman, who has served us so well for two terms, has broken the Sixth District rule, and is about to enter upon a third term as our Representative at Washington, deserves not only the usual Democratic majority in this District but an overwhelming one. Confident of his strength with the people, and yet under circumstances calculated to test the "nerve" of any one, he asked the right to submit his claims to the sovereign Democratic masses. His modest request found favor with the governing body of our Democratic organization and the wonderful results astonished everyone, except, perhaps, himself. Where, as in this case, the machinery of the party organization worked with unchallenged regularity and justice, the judgment of the masses can be implicitly relied upon. When their real voice finds expression, as now, it speaks for that which is right, as we are bound to understand the right in our form of government. Mr. Godwin, therefore, stands today the most completely endorsed Democratic Congressional candidate in the State There must be a reason for this. Can it be otherwise than that the Democratic masses regard his services as satisfactory in the highest degree? There can be no other conclusion. Apart from his arduous attention to the needs of our rural population, he has done signal service to our principal towns, Fayeteville and Wilmington. Those who enjoy the benefits of his loyal work in this respect, as well as our brethren in the country, should see to it that he receive commensurate recognition at the polls this day week. Give Mr. Godwin what he deserves, an overwhelming Democratic majority!"

The election of members of Congress is a serious question for the people at this time. It is more serious to the people than it is to either the party or its candidates. It is the people's fight this time and they should be heard from in no uncertain tone. Mr. Godwin is worthy of the support of the voters of the District and they should not hesitate or haggle on questions and differences which are small in comparison with the prinicples and the results for which they should vote. Every Democrat should be sure to vote and secure as many other votes as he can, so the verdict at the polls will be pronounced and effective.

In New Hanover county and in all other counties the Democratic tickets should receive the fullest vote. The menace of Butlerism and Republicanism needs such condemnation as will deter any serious effort two years from now to carry this State in opposition to the Democracy. The election of State Senators and members of the legislature at this time are of serious importance, and it is not worth while to call the attention of the people to the danger of indifference in that respect. The election is extremely important both from a State and National standpoint and the people of North Carolina should not neglect to go to the polls and do their duty to themselves, to their State and to their country.

WHOSE OX IS GORED?

When the cotton bulls in New York were putting up the price of cotton to 14 or 15 cents a pound, the Republican administration at Washington entered suit against the bulls to drag them into court for committting acts "in restraint of trade." When the cotton bears carry on operations to drag down the price of cotton the Washington administration is satisfied there is nothing at all about that in restraint of trade. If the tariff, as alleged by Vice President Sherman, has caused cotton to go up to 9½ cents a pound, the Washington administration may bring suit against the Aldrich tariff law on the charge of so operating as to restrain trade. However, the Washington administration actually puts the blame on the cotton bulls for 14 cents cotton and not on the tariff. Vice President Sherman doesn't know enough to know this, but when he goes out as a spieler he should keep posted.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Summer resort season is over and as a consequence times would be somewhat dull around the mouth of the Cape Fear were it not for the enterprising character of the inhabitants. Scorning an existence of placid ease, Wilmington indulged in no less than four fires of sizable proportions on one and the same day recently.—Charlotte Observer.

The Greensboro News is exhausting a quite copious vocabulary in saying things the reverse of complimentary about the Democrats of its own State. But prolific as it is of unsavory suggestions the News has not yet succeeded in equalling the verbal lambasting which, but a short time since, President Taft administered to the North Carolina Republicans.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

A citizen of Columbus county says he remembers the time when land in his county now valued at $100 an acre was sold for 25 cents an acre. The Wilmington Star, which quotes the statement ,declares the speaker is not yet past middle life. It does seem that Columbus has made some progress, but the next decade or so is going to eclipse all records in this direction.—Charlotte Observer.

Our Republican friends in this county are not making any noise; in fact, they have been slipping and sliding around in the dark of the moon, making assertions that would be a disgrace to a ten-year-old school boy. They have made votes by this deception and every mother's son of a Republican is going to come out and vote, hence the necessity of Democrats voting and working.—Greensboro Record.

The Evening Times, Raleigh, is correct to the letter when it makes mention of the fact that not a single complaint was heard in regard to the treatment of the people who attended the State fair last week. Raleigh and Wilmington are noted for their kind treatment of the stranger who chances to be within their gates. These two towns are growing fast because doing unto others as you would have them do unto you is the biggest and best advertisement in the world.—Snow-hill Square Deal.

A. & M. GAME CANCELLED.

Washington & Lee Will Not Play at Lynchburg Next Saturday.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 3.—Manager G. W. Ross has announced that the football game scheduled to be played in Lynchburg Saturday with Washington & Lee has been cancelled by the latter team on account of the injury of several of their 'Varsity players in the game with V. P. I. in Rianoke last Saturday. A game for next Saturday will be secured, if possible, but at this late day it is not expected that a game can be arranged.

Shall Women Vote?

If they did, millions would vote Dr. King's New Life Pills the true remedy for women. For banishing dull, fagged feelings, backache or headache, constipation, dispelling colds, imparting appetite and toning up the system, they're unequalled. Easy, safe, sure. 25c at Robert R. Bellamy's.

FROM WHITEVILLE.

Damage to Cotton Crop—Democratic Outlook—Star is Popular.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Noc. 3.—Conservative farmers estimate the damage to the cotton crop in this county by the early killing frost at 15 per cent., and some as much as 20 per cent. Had frost held off a little langer many bolls would have matured which have been killed. It is not now thought that two-thirds of an average cotton crop will be made in Columbus. The fields are white and the next picking will about clean up the crop. A farmer in town today from Robeson county says the frost has also greatly shortened the cotton crop with them. Lint this Fall has been very short.

Democrats from the different townships were in town this week to get election tickets. From every section they bring the most encouraging reports of the outlook for the party. Mr. D. W. Nance, a leading citizen of Evergreen, in Tatom's township, says they are hopeful of carrying that hitherto Republican stronghold for the Democratic party. Welch's Creek township, that has gone Democratic by ten votes, it is said, will increase the majority to 20 or perhaps 25. The Republicans are very apathetic, and don't seem to take much interest in the election. A number have joined the Democrats and others will not even go to the polls.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Tucker have returned from their bridal tour. They visited New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, spending several days at the National Capital with Mr. Tucker's brother, who lives there. They are boarding with Mrs. Tucker's mother, Mrs. V. V. Richardson, on Pinkney street.

As to who will win the Star's prizes is creating about as much attention and interest in this county as the Tuesday's election. Columbus county confidently counts on capturing several of the prizes. The circulation of the Star has greatly increased in Whiteville, judging from the length of time it now requires the bundle of papers to be distributed. The postmaster is asked to first open and distribute the Wilmington Star when the morning mail arrives, for the people are anxious to get that paper above all others.

LOCATE BUILDING.

Treasury DePartment Agent in Rocky Mount—Democratic Rally.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 3.—There is much interest locally in the visit of Mr. G. W. Detrick, of the Treasury Department, who arrived yesterday from Washington to decide on the location of the public building for this city from the dozen sites submitted to the government upon their call about about six or eight months ago. Those who have submitted sites have been called into consulattion with the representative of the government, or they will be within a short time.

Democrats in the neighborhood of Kingsboro are preparing for a great day tomorrow when Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes will address the voters of Edgecombe county on the issues of the campaign. In addition to the speaker named there will be others. A barbecue will be served and a large crowd is expected.

Hickory. N. C. Nov. 2, 1910.

To the Editor of the Charlotte Observer, Charlotte, North Carolina:

Dear Sir:—Your paper contains what purports to be a report of what occured at Rutherfordton on last Monday when Senator Overman and I both spoke in that town. The report is not only incorrect, but extremely unfair. The facts are that there was a very large gathering of people of both political parties to hear the two speakers. I learned upon arrival that there was a general desire that there should be a joint discussion of the issues of this campaign in order that the voters might hear both sides and draw their own conclusinons. Besides, in as much as I had read in a number of papers that Senator Overman had been making very serious and violent personal attacks upon me and was generally abusive, I felt that I had a right to demand that he should say whatever he had to say about me to my face and in the presence of the voters, so that then and there I should have an opportunity to reply to the same.

Therefore I authorized the Republican county chairman to extend an invitation to Senator Overman through the Democratic county chairman for a joint discussion of the issues, and further demanding that he take that opportunity to say in my presence what he had been reported to have said concerning me personally. This invitation and challenge, after a consultation between Senator Overman and the Democratic county chairman, was declined without giving any reasons therefore. When the news of this fact spread, I am informed that there was much unfavorable comment upon the unfair, not to say cowardly conduct on the part of Senator Overman.

At any rate, the fact is that at least two-thirds of the voters followed me to the Republican place of speaking. The Republicans had secured the opera house for the occasion, but as it appeared that not one-third of those who desired to hear me speak, and who did not care to hear Senator Overman since he refused a joint discussion, could be accommodated, it was decided to have the speaking at the baseball park.

None of these facts are stated by the person who sent the report to your paper. The reporter does state, however, that Senator Overman made a high toned speech entirely devoid of abuse. If he made such a speech on this occasion, then it would, to judge from the newspaper reports and from other reports which I have received, be the first speech of that kind that he has made in this campaign; and if this report is true it shows how cowardly Senator Overman is not to say in his speech at Rutherfordton, when I was present in the town, what he was reported to have said elsewhere. I understand that a newspaper desiring to be eminently fair is at the mercy of those who send in news reports, and believing that you would prefer to have a truthful report, I feel it my duty to call your attention to these facts and trust that you will give them space in your columns. Very respectfully, nov 4-1t. MARION BUTLER.

C., Nov. 3.—The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Co., filed with the Corporation Commission today the plans for a new $30,000 passenger station at Fayetteville to take the place of the old inadequate station that the railroad company has been contending that it should be allowed to require the Coast Line to allow to require the Coase Line to allow the Raleigh & Southport to use this station also, on a rental basis, in this way making it a union station for Fayetteville.

BOYS' BRIGADE IS ACTIVE

All Departments Now Thoroughly Organized and Are Down to Work—Basketball League Formed and First Game Tonight.

All departments of the work at the Boys' Brigade armory are now fully organized and running smoothly. Great interest is taken by the members in the work of the organization and everything points to a most successful Fall and Winter for the Brigade.

The educational department is very active, there being classes in elementary English, mathematics and stenography, also a very successful debating course is conducted. About 30 of the members are enrolled and these are quite enthusiastic in the promotion of their studies.

The religious features of the organization are very successful and are proving an important factor. There is a Bible lecture course conducted by Rev. Dr. John M. Wells with an attendance of about 80 men at each session. Only one Sunday afternoon meeting is conducted each month, but this is always largely attended and the results very gratifying. The average attendance for the season is 175.

The gymnasium classes are well attended, more than half the members being enrolled and over 30 being in attendance at each class meeting. This does not include the large number who use this department during other hours.

The latest development in this department is a basketball league, the first game being tonight, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. The public is invited to witness these contests. There will be no charge for admittance. The teams will be captained by Messrs. A. Elmer, S. Branch, E. Irving and H. A. Kure. A beautiful cup has been donated by Mr. Geo. Honnet to be known as the Honnet Basketball trophy. This will be contested for year by year, not for the purpose of winning the cup but that the successful competitors may enjoy the distinction of having their names placed upon the cup as a record of prowess and skill. It is thought that the number of spectators wil be quite large and arrangements wil be made for the comfort and accommodation of all who attend.

MACOMBER'S DITCH MATTER.

Reasonably Certain That Desired Improvements Will be Made.

The Commissioners of Streets held an informal conference at the City Hall yesterday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the proposition to improve Macomber's ditch, which has been under consideration for a long time, but was not presented to the Street Commission until a short time ago. Those present at the meeting were Chairman Louis Belden, Messrs. W. L. Parsley, R. H. Brady and Geo. Heyer, members of the commission; City Engineer Humphreys and Clerk J. F. Gause. The members of the commission recently went over the ditch and the meeting yesterday was plans for the improvement with the city engineer. No formal action was taken, but is is understood that the commissioners have practically decided what they will do in the matter and it can be stated with a degree of certainty that the improvement will be made in the near future. The matter will come up for action at the next regular meeting, one week from today.

CITY BOARD OF HEALTH.

Regular Monthly Meeting Will Be Held at City Hall Today.

The regular monthly meeting of the City Board of Health will be held in the Mayor's office this afternoon. The report of the health department for the month of October was given a few days ago and the report of Dr. Thos. B. Carroll, meat and dairy inspector, to Dr. Joseph Akerman, city superintendent of health, is as follows:

"During the month of October I made 35 inspections of dairies and dairy farms, the sanitary conditions, health and cattle and attendants were good, all tests coming up to the standard. There were no applications for the sale of milk and no permits were granted.

"I made 720 post-examinations of slaughtered meats as follows: 88 cattle, 133 sheep and 499 hogs with no condemnations."

NAVIGATION AND PILOTAGE

Regular Monthly Meeting of Board Held Wednesday—Official Report of Proceedings on Several Matters.

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 2, 1910.

Regular monthly meeting of the Board of Commissioners of Navigation and Pilotage was held today, with the following present: Chairman James Sprunt, Commissioners J. W. Harper and Richard Dosher, and Clerk L. Brown McKoy.

The reading of the minutes of previous meeting was dispensed with, as were also various routine matters which had already been passed upon by the chairman.

The first thing taken up by the Commissioners was a communication dated October 13th, addressed to the Board, from S. F. Craig, asking that action be taken with reference to his request for renewal of his license as a pilot for the Cape Fear river and bars; also a communication from Messrs. Cranmer & Davis and C. Ed Taylor, Esq., attorneys for M. T. Craig, withdrawing all protests that they had formerly lodged with the Board, with reference to the renewal of certain licenses, and asking that the branch of S. F. Craig be renewed, on the ground that they considered he was as much entitled to a renewal of his license as was Pilot J. J. Adkins, who was granted a renewal at a previous meeting of the Board.

After a full discussion of the matter the Commissioners came to a unanimous decision that the case of S. F. Craig was not at all analogous to that of Pilot Adkins. The latter was absent on leave, and reported to the chairman of the Board as instructed. He was engaged as captain of a schooner, which made a trip to this place, and on which occasion he piloted in the river within the limitations of the law. On the contrary, S. F. Craig, for some time prior to the expiration of his license on May 1, 1909, made no attempt whatever to perform the duties of a pilot, and neither did he serve on soundings committees, etc., when duly appointed. He also stated that he did not wish a renewal of his branch for the purpose of exercising his rights as a pilot, but that he merely wished to have the branch in case at any time it might become valuable to him. Furthermore, the Board considers that S. F. Craig is not now qualified to serve as a pilot, by reason of his lack of service in recent years; on the other hand, Pilot J. J. Adkins' capabilities are beyond question.

Applications of W. T. Haskett and T. G. Burriss for renewal of license, were refused on the ground that they did not make application within the prescribed time. Application of R. W. Davis for renewal of license, was refused because he did not come under the scope of the law with reference to previous service.

The Board accepted, with much regret, the resignation of Vice Chairman H. W. Malloy, who recently removed from the city. Commissioner Harper was elected to succeed him as Vice Chairman, and, nominations being asked, to fill the vacant office of Commissioner, the name of Mr. H. G. Smallbones was presented and he was unanimously elected.

The Board being desirous of nominating an acceptable person from Southport, to fill the place of Commissioner M. C. Guthrie, resigned, Commissioner Dosher was requested to ask the pilots to recommend one of their number for this vacancy, for the consideration of the Board at its next meeting.

A letter was read from the Light House Board at Washington, under date of October 31st, saying that owing to labor trouble and difficulty in securing competent men, the contractors building light-ship No. 94, intended for use on Knuckle Shoal, have been delayed with this work, and that it is not believed, under the circumstances, that this vessel will be delivered by the contractors (The Racine Boat Mfg. Co., of Muskegon, Mich.), and made ready to be placed on station before next Spring. The letter stated further, with reference to the new river lights for the Cape Fear, that Congress failed to appropriate money to carry out the provision for new aids, authorized by the Act of June 17, 1910, and therefore nothing can be done until further action of Congress.

Chairman James Sprunt was requested to write to Senator Overman with respect to the delay, and particularly in reference to the lack of appropriation for the river lights.

A complaint was read from Pilot St. George, of the pilot boat "Velma Brooks," No. 1, that on Tuesday, October 25th, about 4 o'clock in the morning, in a heavy sea, about thirty miles northeast by east from the Frying Pan Shoals lightship, he made the usual signals to the British steamer "Cluden," bound to Wilmington, and also hailed her at close range, without getting any response, and claiming pilotage thereon according to the law. The reply from Captain F. Wilcox, master of the steamer Cluden, was also presented, in which he assured the Commissioners that neither he nor his officers had understood the signals of the pilot boat referred to, as, had they done so, they would have been very pleased to have taken the pilot on board; that they were not prepared to see a pilot boat so far distant from the port; and they expressed regret that Pilot St. George should have lost the pilotage in consequence of their misunderstanding.

With reference to the complaint of Captain Fellows, of the steamship "Jura," dated October 29th, that the pilot charged $4.00 for extra attendance, because the master detained him for some time in the Wilmington harbor, until he could get a safe anchorage or a satisfactory berth, the Commissioners ruled that in such cases, where no expense is incurred by the pilot on account of the detention, it shall be the duty of the pilot to stay by the vessel, without extra charge, for a reasonable time, until the ship is anchored where she will swing safely, or until she is moored at a suitable berth. The charges of this nature, made up to this time, are not ordered refunded, but no further charges of this description will be permitted.

Commissioner Dosher was requested to impress upon the pilots the importance of sending in promptly the monthly and quarterly reports of soundings, as the October quarterly report had not been received by the Board, it appearing that the soundings had been duly made and the report made out, but apparently had been taken to sea by the person to whom this paper was entrusted.

In answer to a request for a modification of the cruising grounds, the pilots interested were requested to make a written application, clearly defining the limitations they proposed.

Commissioner Harper raised the question, which has repeatedly been brought to the attention of the members of the Board, with respect to the great risk incurred by the pilots in using, at long distances at sea, small craft that are entirely unfitted for such purposes, and are liable at any time to cause serious disaster. The Commissioners would be pleased if the pilots would agree together to eliminate this risk, by the substitution of more substantial boats, and the discontinuance of the use of the frail boats which otherwise will inevitably lead to serious trouble hereafter.

The clerk was instructed to notify I. S. Davis to appear before the Board at the next monthly meeting, to answer charges of improper conduct, unbecoming a public servant.

It appearing that Pilot Morse had overstayed his leave of absence, it was ordered that he appear before the Board at the next monthly meeting and marke satisfactory explanation.

It was further ordered that hereafter no leaves of absence will be given unless approved by the chairman, in addition to one Commissioner.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

L. BROWN McKOY, Clerk.

FOOTBALL THIS AFTERNOON.

Wilmington and Fayetteville High School Teams to Contest.

Weather permitting, there will be played at League Park this afternoon the first football game of the season, the opposing teams being the Wilmington High School and Fayetteville High School, the game announced to be played with Rocky Mount having been cancelled. Both have strong teams and it is thought that they are pretty evenly matched. The local team, however, hopes to capture the honors. Graded school pupils and other lovers of the game are looking forward with interest to the contest this afternoon and the indications are that there will be several hundred in attendance. The general admission will be 25 cents and school children will be admitted for 15 cents. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

The Wilmington team has been holding daily practices and the members are in the best of form. R. Burnett, captain, is showing up well at right half-back. Blue, the fullback, is doing the punting and drop kicking for the team, while Parsley is playing well at quarterback. The ends, Taylor and Merriman, L., are both fast men and sure tacklers. The line is strong on the defense.

The game this afternoon will be the first time a football game has been played in this city under the new rules and this fact will serve to augment the crowd.

LOADED AT CASTLE HAYNES.

Schooner Baird Receives Cargo 30 Miles Up Northeast River.

With the largest cargo of lumber ever received that distance up the Northeast river, the schooner Edward R. Baird, Jr., was towed down 30 miles to the city yesterday and cleared for Chester, Pa., with cargo from the Perry Lumber Company, near Castle Haynes. The schooner has 282,000 feet, and is also the second largest vessel to receive cargo from the Perry Company. The schooner Lottie R. Burgell, which made such a rapid trip down the coast to this port from New York, leaving the latter port on Friday evening and arriving here Monday afternoon, will clear today for Little River, S. C., to receive cargo of lumber. She discharged salt to the D. L. Gore Company.

FRECKLES

November Worst Month for This Trouble; How to Remove Easily.

There's a reason why nearly everybody is freckled by the winds of Autumn, but happily there is also a cure for those ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get one ounce of Othine—double strength from J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., and apply a little of it at night, and in the morning you will see that even the worst have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they will stay all Winter and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Money back if it fails.

SEND OVER TO RECORDER.

White Youth Given Hearing Yesterday on Charge of Assault.

Denvil Pedrick, a 14-year-old white youth, messenger boy for the Western Union Telegraph Company, was given hearing in Justice Harriss' court yesterday morning on the charge of assault with deadly weapon on Willie Dew, also a young white boy, alleged to have occurred at Delgado Monday afternoon. The prosecution, represented by Walter P. Gafford, Esq., alleges that young Pedrick fired a shot gun at Willie Dew and that one of the stray shots struck Henry Fryar, another youth, a glancing contact. The defendant, who is represented by Woodus Kellum, Esq., contends that it was an air-gun he was shooting and that he had no intention of hitting anyone. Mr. W. V. Dew, father of Willie Dew, told the magistrate that he lost a son some time ago through the carelessness of a youth with a gun. Justice Harriss found probable cause and sent the case over to the Recorder's court. The lad was recognized for his appearance before the Recorder today.

W. L. I. OUTING.

Delightful Affair This Evening at Lumina—Special Car.

Members of the Wilmington Light Infantry and those of the Reserve Corps, who are to be the special guests of the active membership, are looking forward with much pleasurable anticipation to the outing and oyster roast this evening at Lumina, on Wrightsville Beach. The committee in charge is composed of First Lieutenant P. L. Cantwell, chairman; Messrs. George Honnet and Clarence Myers and they have everything in readiness for the delightful occasion. A special car will leave Front and Princess streets at 8 o'clock and all those who expect to go are asked to be promptly on hand. There will be a number of informal short addresses and a good time in general for the soldier boys and their friends.

CUTTER COMES BACK SOON.

New Dynamo Has Been Installed in Seminole at Newport News, Va.

Information has been received at the port that the revenue cutter Seminole, Lieut. Covell commanding, will return to her home port within the next two weeks from Newport News, Va., where a new turbine dynamo has been installed by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company. The cutter has been away since the middle of October. The new dynamo was necessary to equip the wireless apparatus. It was shipped to Newport News from Baltimore. It is understood that Capt. Crisp, who has been on a leave of absence, will join the Seminole before she returns to port. The Winter cruising begins the first of December.

ONLY ONE DAY REMAINS.

Y. M. C. A. Membership Campaign Closes Tonight—Final Effort.

The campaign of the Y. M. C. A. to increase its membership to 700 will close tonight at 9 o'clock and officers of the association and members who have been leading the campaign believe that the goal will be reached. More than 100 new members have already been added to the list, which leaves about that number to be secured today. A great many of those who pledged their services at the supper Monday night have not exerted themselves to any considerable extent yet, but it is believed that they will get in the campaign good and strong today and help in the good work with the result that the desired number of new members will be secured. The call to service is general and it is hoped that each and every member of the association will make an effort today to secure new members. The Wilmington association should have at least 1,000 members and the membership committee is extremely modest in its request that the membership be increased to 700 during this campaign. The standing of the several teams at the close last night was as follows: Busy Men, 273 points; Dormitory, 246; The D. G. Worth Bible Class, 193; Juniors, 76.

Protest Against Screens.

It is understood that a petition will be presented to the Aldermen Monday night from a large number of merchants of the city asking that the screen ordinance recently adopted be rescinded or modified, claiming that the ordinance works a hardship and that the screens in use serve more to hide products offered for sale than to accomplish any other result. The merchants will ask that the ordinance be suspended until Spring, or be modified to meet the views of the merchants. The petition, it is understood, has been largely signed.

Both Speedy and Effective.

This indicates the action of Foley Kidney Pills as S. Parsons, Battle Creek, Mich., illustrates: "I have been afflicted with a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble for which I found no relief until I used Foley Kidney Pills. These cured me entirely of all my ailments. I was troubled with backaches and severe shooting pains with annoying urinary irregularities. The steady use of Foley Kidney Pills rid me entirely of all my former troubles. They have my highest recommendation." Robt. R. Bellamy.

SPEAKING AT COURT HOUSE

Attorney General Bickett Will Discuss Issues of the Campaign Tonight—Probably the Final Democratic Rally.

What will probably be the final big Democratic rally of the present campaign, now drawing rapidly to a close, will be held at the Court House tonight, when Attorney General Thos. W. Bickett, of North Carolina, will address the voters on the issues. It was at first planned to have the speaking take place in open air at corner of Third and Market streets, but owing to the threatening weather it was decided best to use the Court House.

Attorney General Bickett is unquestionably one of the foremost orators of the State and his services have been in constant demand throughout the State during the present campaign. He was to have made an address here earlier in the campaign, but there was such a demand for his services that he could not get here at that time. He is no stranger to a Wilmington audience, having been heard with great pleasure at the commencement exercises of the Wilmington High School last Spring, when he delivered the annual address to the graduating class. Those who heard him at that time want to hear him discuss the issues of the campaign from the Democratic standpoint and those who did not hear the commencement oration have a desire to hear him on account of his wide reputation. Therefore, it is very likely that standing room will be at premium tonight. The speaker will be introduced by Hon. John D. Bellamy, of this city.

While in Wilmington Mr. Bickett will be royally entertained, the committee having arranged to take him and some of his close friends for an automobile ride over the county roads and for an oyster roast at Greenville Sound. Sheriff S. P. Cowan has graciously tendered the committee the use of his hospitable home at Greenville for the occasion.

Mr. E. W. Hanks Bereaved.

Many friends of Mr. E. W. Hanks, who is remembered as having been a popular member of the Wilmington baseball team the past season and who has since been engaged in business in this city, will sympathize with him in the death of his mother, Mrs. R. W. Hanks, which occurred yesterday at her home in Anderson, S. C. Mr. Hanks was summoned by telegraph Wednesday on account of his mother's illness and a telegram to friends in the city yesterday, bore the sad announcement of her death.

Not Sorry for Blunder.

"If my friends hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful life-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Robert R. Bellamy.

MR. J. W. CHURCH HERE.

Came From Hampton Institute to Hear Distinguished Negro

In the city yesterday and last night to hear Dr. Booker Washington was Mr. J. W. Church, of the faculty of Hampton Institute, Virginia, of which Dr. Washington is an alumnus and who has founded his great institution at Tuskegee along lines that were suggested to him in his collegiate training in behalf of the colored race at Hampton. Mr. Church is a graduate of Yale, a friend of Mr. M. F. H. Gouverneur, of this city, and for a brief residence in the South has a wonderful grasp and conception of the so-called race problem here, believing that its solution lies in the industral training of the race along lines that are being carried out at Hampton. Mr. Church has recently conceived and carried into successful execution what is known as "The Halifax County Plan for Elementary Education," which has met with the approval of the State of Virginia and has been put into effect in four counties of that commonwealth, more extended reference to which the Star hopes to make later. Mr. Church returns to his work at Hampton this morning.

MISS META BRUNJES BRIDE OF MR. WILLIAM A. MAHLER.

A wedding of interest to a wide circle of friends was solemnized at St. Paul's Episcopal church at 6 o'clock last evening, when Miss Meta Rebecca Brunjes, the attractive niece of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brunjes, and Mr. William August Mahler, a well known business man of this city, plighted their troth. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. W. A. Snyder, pastor of the church. Miss Adela Brunjes, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. Carl Strunck was best man. The church was artistically decorated by a well known local florist, whose skill was abundantly reflected in the beauty of the scene.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahler left on the evening train for a bridal tour of some days to points of interest in the North. Mr. Mahler holds a position with Mr. H. L. Vollers, the well known wholesale grocer, and has a wide circle of friends in this city. They have the best wishes of many friends for a long and happy wedded life.

ANNUAL FALL RECEPTION OF Y. M. C. A. LAST NIGHT.

One of the most thoroughly delightful social events of the season was the annual Fall reception of the Ladies' Auxiliary and board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. given in the rooms of the association last evening from 8 to 10 o'clock. There was a steady stream of guests during the hours of the event and each and every one enjoyed the occasion to the fullest extent. In the opinion of many the event eclipsed any of the several affairs of the kind which have been given in the past and the attendance was equally as large if not larger than on any former occasion. The rooms of the association were very prettily decorated with ferns and flowers. During the evening a most delightful informal programme was rendered. There were several selections by the Boys' Brigade Orchestra which pleased immensely. Miss Lucile Riley charmed the guests with a solo and was forced to respond to an encore while Miss Gracie Craig pleased greatly in one of her delightful recitations and was also recalled by a most appreciative audience.

The guests as they arrived were welcomed by Mr. J. B. Huntington, general secretary; Mr. H. G. Bowden, associate secretary, members of the board of directors, and the ladies of the Auxiliary. During the rendition of the delightful, though short programme, Mr. Huntington presided and announced the several numbers. Refreshments were served during the evening by ladies of the Auxiliary.

It is estimated that there were several hundred people to visit the association during the hours of the reception and probably a hundred of this number were new members secured during the present campaign and they were heartily welcomed by the old members. An altogether pleasant evening was spent by all in attendance.

CHARGES AGAINST RAILROAD.

Sweeping Denunciation of L. & W. Company—Reparation Demanded.

Washington, Nov. 3.—A sweeping denunciation of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company in which it is charged with repeatedly attempting to drive a competing company out of business, and an arraignment of the so-called "anthracite coal trust" are contained in a complaint filed with the Inter-State Comerce Commission today by the Marian Coal Company, of Wilmington, Del. Reparation in the sum of $55,320 because of alleged charges, is demanded.

The statements set forth allegations of one of the most remarkable series of business harassments ever figuring before the Commission. It not only attacks the alleged unjust and discriminative rates to which the Marian company has been subjected as "based on a monopoly maintained through the device of the Temple Iron Company, the directors of which are the presidents of the railroads constituting the arthracite coal trust," but charges an attempted dictation of proposed interference with prospective purchasers of the plant, diversion of water supply and heaping of fuel on a fire that threatened destruction to the Marian Company's Washery at Taylor, Pa., resulting in nearly $80,000 loss to the company.

MRS. MARTIN IRRESPONSIBLE

Witnesses Testify That She is Not Sane Enough to Stand Trial.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 3.—Two witnesses testified today that they do not believe Mrs. Caroline B. Martin is sane enough to stand trial on the charge of murdering her daughter, Ocey W. Snead, who was found dead last November in the bathtub of an unfurnished house in East Orange, N. J.

The first witness Rita Suller, a negro girl, who worked for Mrs. Martin when the latter conducted a girl's academy at Murfreesboro, Tenn., said that her mistress spent most of her time in sleep, lived chiefly on coffee, scattered ashes, money, fragments of food and old papers on the floor and would not permit the room to be cleared.

Miss Marie E. VanWagoner who also worked for Mrs. Martin at her Soule College in Charlottesburg, S. C., corroberated the maid in her account of Mrs. Martin's eccentricities.

MARTIAL LAW IN HONDURAS.

Result of General Valadares—Island in a State of Seige.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Martial law has been declared in Honduras as a direct result of the revolt of General Jose Valadares, the deposed commandant of Amapala, against the government according to cable advices to the State Department today from Minister McCreery, at Tegucigalpa. The port of Amapala has been closed and the island is in a state of seige.

The United States gunboat Princeton is in the harbor at Amapala ready to take a hand in the revolution at the first sign of hostility towards foreigners or their interests. President Davila is preparing to send an armed force against Valladares and in event of the government's failure to restore order on the island the United States probably will be asked to interfere.

Cottolene

Comes from the Land of Sunshine

The very source of Cottolene inspires confidence in the product. It is pure. It comes from the cottonfields of the Sunny South and from cottonfield to kitchen human hands never touch the oil from which Cottolene is made.

Being a vegetable product, Cottolene is pure—and just as digestible as the purest olive oil. You can never be sure of this when using lard, which is simply hog fat—an animal product.

Cottolene is immeasurably superior to lard from a health standpoint. It makes pure, digestible, nourishing food, and food which any stomach can digest.

The careful, once-posted housewife will use Cottolene in place of lard every time.

ACADEMY

For the Fornia-Tibaldi musical which is to be held at the Academy Nov. 11th, a guarantee had to be given and it depends upon the music lovers of the city as to whether Wilmington is to have an opportunity of hearing these noted stars. The advance sale of seats opened yesterday morning at Plummer's. The lower floor seats are $1.50, the entire balcony $1.

The young violinist professionally known as Arturo Tibaldi, is in private life Mr. Arthur Larking, and the youngest son of Colonel Cuthbert and Lady Adela Larking.

Colonel Larking has been for many years Equerry to the late King Edward VII,—and Lady Adela, from whom her son inherits his talent, is a sister of the Earl of Listowel and twin-sister of Lady Heneage, who it may be mentioned, was one of Her Royal Highness' The Princess of Wales (now Queen Alexandra's) bridesmaids at the time of her wedding.

Lady Adela was for many years lady-in-waiting to H. R. H. The Dutchess of Connaught. One of her other sisters, Lady Sophia Macnamara also being in attendance to H. R. H. Princess Louise Duchess of Argyll—for a period of over 30 years.

Tibaldi himself is the godson of Their Royal Highnesses, The Duke and Duchess of Connaught, who both take a great perosnal interest in his career. At the time of his birth, the Duke honored him by entering his name for the Royal Rifle Brigade—this being the Duke's own regiment—but after all, he was not destined for a military career. At a very early age, he began to show his taste for music, and even when he was barely three years old would be quite content listening to his mother practising her violin—provided he was given two little sticks to scrape together and imagine he was doing the same thing! However, his fondness for music was not encouraged, and at the age of seven he was sent to a public school where he remained until he was fifteen. At this time, and after much persuasion to both his parents he was permitted to go abroad to Florence and begin his musical studies under Professor Faini; and after one year with this excellent teacher he showed such promise that he was allowed to continue until he had passed all the highest examinations.

After this he came to London and placed himself under the tuition of the late Professor August Wilhelmj—finally making his debut in that town at the St. James' Hall, on which occasion Madame Emma Eames made her last public appearance in England. Later he toured on the Continent meeting with great success and visiting many towns. In Athens, he received a command to play at the Palace before the King of Greece, and all the Royal Family, and afterwards was presented with a signed photograph as a souvenir of the occasion.

"Graustark."

"Graustark," an adaptation by Geo. D. Baker, of Barr McCutcheon's most popular novel, will be presented at the Academy next Tuesday night.

The hero is a rich young American who falls in love with a Miss Guggenslocker and follows her across the ocean to her home in the little country of "Graustark," only to find her the reigning Princess. She is about to marry a worthless Prince in order to free her country from a burdensome debt. Another Prince, even more unscrupulous, seeks her hand. She likes the American and he eagerly enters the list as a candidate for her affection. Though threatened by powerful foes and meeting with stubborn oposition he finally wins the Princess, his friend captures the heart of her maid of honor, the villian is made prisoner and "Graustark," is saved from an unworthy ruler.

The company presenting this beautiful play has been chosen especially to fit the novelist's description of the characters, Messrs. Baker and Castle, the managers, have given particular attention to the scenic equipment and with the splendid opportunities offered, have realized some of the handsomest stage pictures that will be seen this season.

Seats will go on sale at Plummer's Monday evening.

At the Bijou Today.

At the Bijou today will be shown "The Appeal of the Prairie," an Indian story, affording a profound and noble study of human nature, and "The Ole Swimmin' Hole." They are fine pictures and will doubtless be seen by large audiences.

At the Crystal

The regular mid-week change of programme went into effect at the Crystal Palace yesterday and there were large audiences to witness the performances. The bill this week is very clever and entertaining.

At Joyland.

The feature film for the popular little theatre today will be one of those up-to-now comics, "Weaning a Husband." The name speaks for itself. The heating system is now in first class order and you can come in to Joyland out of the cold and spend 35 minutes of pleasure. Programme changes daily.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Mr. W. I. Shaw, of Ivanhoe, was in the city yesterday on a business trip.

—Mr. R. E. Johnson, manager for Fornia, the soprano, and Tibaldi, violinist, who appear here November 11, was in the city yesterday and personally recommended the attraction, which promises to be largely patronized by the music lovers of the city.

Suffered Miserably

Cardui Helped Her

"I suffered miserably," writes Mrs. Mattie L. Bishop, of Waverly, Va. "Very often I would have to go to bed until it wore off. Everything I ate made me miserable and I could not even wash the dishes after a meal. My husband begged me to try CARDUI, but I had tried so many medicines I didn't want to. However, for his sake I tried CARDUI and before I had taken one bottle I felt all right. I can now do all my work and recommend CARDUI to every woman."

Are you one of the thousands of women who suffer as Mrs. Bishop suffered? Don't be discouraged—take CARDUI, the woman's tonic. It has relieved thousands, when other remedies have failed. You owe it to yourself to try this great remedy, for it is only reasonable to believe it will help you, too, since it has benefited so many others.

CARDUI is a purely vegetable tonic, containing no injurious drugs, and therefore perfectly harmless and good for young and old. It acts gently on the delicate female constitution and leaves no bad after-effects.

Try CARDUI—it can't harm you—it will surely help you. At all druggists.

A FIRMER TONE FOR COTTON

Reports of Smaller Crop Estimates and Damage from Cold Wave—Net Advance of 7 to 15 Points During the Day.

New York, Nov. 3.—Smaller estimates of the crop and Southern advices claiming that there was more damage from the recent cold wave than previously realized imparted a generally firmer tone to the cotton market today and the close was firm at a net advance of 7 to 15 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 4 to 7 points under overnight selling orders and in sympathy with indifferent cables, but soon rallied on suport from leading bull operators and improved gradually during the day on the demand from this source together with covering by recent sellers who appeared to be influenced by bullish Southern crop advices and the strong character of some of the buyers. Closing prices were only a shade off from the top under realizing. It was reported during the day that the average estimate of members of the Savannah Cotton Exchange was 11,790,000 bales and that members of the Augusta Exchange estimated the crop at 11,800,000 bales compared with yesterday's rumored estimates by other authorities of 12,000,000 bales and recently published estimates ranging from a little over 12 1-2 million up to 12,900,000 bales. These estimates by Southern exchange members appeared to create considerable buying power here, in conection with numerous private advices covering nearly all the late sections of the belt and indicating that the recent cold wave had done serious damage; the inference being, apparently, that the larger estimates of the yield had been compiled before the full extent of the frost damage had been known. Southern spot markets officially reported early were unchanged to 1-8c. lower. There were reports here late in the day of a better export demand in the South and private cables suggested that the European trade has paid comparatively little attention to the large estimates recently circulating here.

Receipts at the ports today 48,000 bales against 63,472 last week and 65,989 last year. For the week 400,000 bales against 391,188 last week and 402,640 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 12,843 against 7,918 last year. Spot closed firm and unchanged. Middling uplands 14.55; middling gulf 14.80; sales none. Futures opened steady and closed firm.

New York, Nov. 3.—The speculative element advocating higher prices for stocks rallied their forces today and lifted quotations. The professed grounds for the movement were the steel and copper trade advices. The dealings in United States Steel expanded to a large volume in the neighborhood of 80 at which price stop loss orders from uncovered shorts seemed to be dislodged. At 80 3-8 a new high level for the movement little business was done and the whole market closed very dull on the advance.

The principal news from the steel trade was told in the Iron Age that buying of steel rails by the railroads for 1911 had begun. The transactions specified were not large, but they were accepted as evidence that the policy of abstention from buying materials, which has been closely followed by the railroads during the progress of the rate hearing was being abandoned.

On the side of the copper trade there were reports of some of the principal producers holding for higher prices and of sales to foreign buyers of large amounts for delivery in December and January.

The call money market did not show the expected relation in the rate holding at 4 per cent. or above for the first time in the Fall season. The weekly statement of the Bank of England disclosed a large reduction of "other securities," reflecting repayment by the money market to the bank by reason of the easing of the outside money market.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value $2,142,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales 596,600 shares.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life.

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. It's positively guaranteed for stomach, liver or kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50c at Robert R. Bellamy's.

ADVANCE IN COTTON MARKETS.

Prices Fairly Held on Moderate Trading—Manchester Reports Better.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Nov. 3.—Reports from Manchester were somewhat better, but our market has been mainly local, with Liverpool a moderate seller. During the early hours the tendency was low and on absence of orders, but the later under some demand and the helping hand of the bulls, aiding by dispatches that the crop showed sappy bolls from the late cold wave prices advanced and were fairly held on moderate trading. Estimates from the Augusta & Savannah Exchanges are about 11,800,000 bales and the National Ginners' figures were said to be but 7,306,000 to Oct. 31st. The market feels surfected with guesses of the crop, and is not much affected by them. So long as the movement fails to agree with the bear estimates, the trade will proceed with caution, especially while spots show their steadiness. The yarn market is a shade better.

in slavery, he would challenge the world to show him a higher type of civilization; this, he said, only demonstrating what the negro can do. He said that he was in Wilmington in 1898 and at that time the people had some problems. On his second visit at this time he did not find them without problems, but they have shifted somewhat. He said that he had been reading the papers and there was a discussion going on, and he told an amusing anecdote to illustrate the point that the white people could settle these problems among themselves. For 40 years, he said, the negro has been the subject of discussion and he knew of no race that had been so much discussed. In fact, it was hard to understand how the negro had lived through so much discussion. However, the negro is here and is here to stay, he said.

"We are to live in the South together, black and white, and it is sometimes helpful for us to speak directly and frankly to each other," he continued. "When two races are to live in the same country, the sensible policy to pursue is to do everything that will promote good will and friendship rather than enmity and discord. In every portion of North Carolina I want to see the negro get to the point where he will not merely be tolerated in any community, but where he will render such fine and valuable service that will actually be wanted in every community.

"The masses of all races live by the labor of their hands, and the negro is no exception to that rule. Whatever the future may bring to us, it is true today that the negro is the main dependence in most parts of the South for certain kinds of labor. I want to help my race in every part of the country to get rid of the old foolish idea that an educated man should not labor with his hands," he said. "I want to teach them everywhere that there is as much dignity in working in the field, in the shop, in the kitchen, in the laundry as there is in teaching school, preaching the gospel or writing poetry.

"I readily grant that the negro has his shortcomings, his vices, but in my own experience I have found that one can often help the negro by encouraging him rather than by mere abuse and adverse criticism of him. Sometimes the best colored people in our communities become rather discouraged because the newspapers and public speakers are too much inclined to class all colored people together; to say, for example, that all colored people will steal, all are lazy, all are shiftless. They mean to say that some colored people are worthless, shiftless and will steal. But sometimes when we are all classed together it is discouraging to those who are trying to lead useful, upright lives. These should be pointed to as examples for other colored people to follow.

"If a colored cook goes to her place of work early in the morning, cleans the kitchen and prepares a good breakfast and serves it with neatness, has a nice, attractive bunch of flowers on the breakfast table, and has everything in the dining room clean and sweet, that colored cook should be praised, the neighbors should be told about it, and very soon the colored cook will hear that she is being praised for her promptness and neatness in her work and the next day she will perform better service, and after a while she will have a reputation in that community for promptness and reliability which she will feel a responsibility in maintaining.

"I am perfectly aware that there is an element of our white friends who often refrain from helping the negro to the extent they would otherwise, on account of the bugbear of what is sometimes referred to as social equality. I am constantly mingling with members of my own race, North and South, and of all the subjects discussed that is very rarely referred to. Let me say as emphatically as I can, that judging by my observation and experience with my race, nowhere in this country is it seeking to obtrude itself on the white race, and especially here in the South. I think you will find that the more sensible the negro is and the more he is educated, the more he finds satisfaction in the company of his own race.

"To a very large extent the problem of the negro in the Southern States is a labor problem. In order to secure effective and satisfactory service from any race, two things have got to be borne in mind. First, people must be taught love for labor, must be taught the dignity of labor and at the same time given proper methods in the direction of skill. Secondly, they must have their minds and their ambitions awakened so that their wants will be increased.

"The Southern negro wants land, wants a house with two or three rooms in it, wants some furniture, books, newspapers, education for his children; wants to support the minister and the Sunday school, and in proportion as those wants are increased he is led to work an increasing number of days in each week in order to satisfy them.

"If we would make the negro more useful as a laborer, we must increase his wants, we must arouse his ambition, we must give him something to live for, and just in proportion as his wants are multiplied, are increased in many directions so that he will want better homes, better furniture, better churches, better schools, more books, more newspapers, in the same degree will he be led to work with more regularity and a longer number of days in order that the increased wants may be satisfied.

"In all that concerns the welfare of the negro in the South, there is no person in the world who can be so helpful to him as his white neighbor. Our white friends will agree with me, I am sure, that they can help the people of my race in preventing migration in so large a number to the cities. Our white friends can help us in this respect in several ways. First, by seeing to it that life in the country is just as attractive and safe as life in the city. The negro wants education for his children.

He has ambition to improve the life of his family. If he finds in the city, as he usually does, a school well equipped with good teachers either by missionary effort or by public school funds that is in session eight or nine months in the year, and if he finds in his own community the public school taught in a broken down log cabin with a poor teacher and the school term not longer than four or five months in the year, the negro is tempted to move to the city where he can educate his children.

"Our white friends can help the negro and help themselves at the same time by seeing to it that the negro family is provided with just as good school facilities in the country as in the city. In my opinion it would pay in the matter of dollars and cents for every white man who owns a plantation to see to it that on or near that plantation there is a good school house and a good church provided, with a good teacher and upright minister who are encouraged to remain in that community. This will mean that labor will come to that plantation, will be satisfied there, that the individual who owns such a plantation and makes these provisions for school and church will not have to seek labor, but labor will seek him.

"Our white friends can help again in preventing the influx of our people to the cities in so large numbers by seeing to it that the negro is just as well protected in their lives and in their property in the country as he is in the city. When the negro feels that he is likely to be lynched or likely to be made to suffer for any kind of crime without due process of law in the country, he is here tempted to move to the city where he can have police protection. In all these respects, by facing conditions frankly, each race can help promote the interests, the happiness, the prosperity of the other race."

At the conclusion of Dr. Washington's address, Mr. J. A. Taylor and Mr. George Rountree, of Wilmington, were called upon and spoke briefly commending the work of the noted educator.

Immediately following the speaking the Washington party was conveyed to the True Reformers' Hall, on Seventh street, where the colored people of the city gave a banquet complimentary to their visitors. At the bouquet engraved resolutions were presented to Bishop George W. Clinton, John Merrick and C. C. Spaulding, manager of the tour through the State, the resolutions bearing the signatures of all the members of the party. The speech of presentation was made by R. W. Thompson, corresponding secretary of the National Negro Press Association, and the resolutions, after paying tribute to the three managers of the tour and the perfect arrangements made by them, closed with the following:

"We note with special satisfaction the generous attitude of the white people of the State and find their friendship a source of great encouragement. We shall never forget the pleasure and helpfulness of this itinerary provided for us and in this formal way join in recording our appreciation."

The tour of the State which ended in this city last night began in Charlotte last Friday night, and everywhere Washington has been met by enthusiastic crowds and listened to attentively by audiences that aggregated 50,000. His speeches throughout the trip have been along the same common-sense lines as the one delivered here last night. The party has touched, besides Charlotte, High Point, Salisbury, Concord, Winston-Salem Greensboro, Reidsville, Lexington, Durham, Wilson, Rocky Mount, Tarboro, Parmele, Washington and Newbern. The party leaves at 5 o'clock this morning and will make a stop at Laurinburg en route to Charlotte where they will disband.

Accompanying Dr. Washington on the trip are his private secretary, Emmett J. Scott, stenographer, Nathan Hunt; Dr. J. A. Kenny, resident physician; J. H. Washington, R. R. Taylor, director of industries; C. W. Greene, director of truck gardening, Tuskegee Institute; Major R. R. Moten, Commandant and W. T. B. Williams, agent of the Slater Fund, Hampton Institute, Va.; W. Sidney Pittman, architect, and R. W. Thompson, corresponding secretary National Negro Press Association, Washington, D. C.; Bishop George W. Clinton, of the A. M. E. Zion Church, Dr. H. L. McCroreyo, President Riddle University; Attorney J. T. Saunders, Dr. E. H. Clement, editor of the Star of Zion, Charlotte; Dr. J. A. Dellinger, Charles H. Moore, organizer, National Negro Business League; Dr. S. A. Peeler, president Bennett College; Dr. J. B. Dudley, president A. & M. College; George F. King, Press Correspondent; R. B. McRary, Lexington, John Merrick, president North Carolina Mutual and Provident Association; C. C. Spaulding, manager of the North Carolina Mutual and Provident Association; G. W. Powell, manager of the Carolina Mutual and Life Insurance Company, Durham; Horace D. Slatter, general press correspondent, Hopkinsville, Ky.; Archdeacon W. George Avant, Newbern, N. C., and others. Dr. Robert E. Jones, editor of the Southern Christian Advocate, New Orleans, La., and Rev. Richard Carroll, president of the Negro Fair Association, Columbia, S. C., were with the party a portion of the trip. When the party was at Washington a significant letter from ex-Governor Thomas J. Jarvis was read which he had written from Greenville, expressing his inability to be at the meeting and distinctly approving and encouraging the work of the Tuskegee educator. "I have learned with great pleasure of your visit to eastern North Carolina," said Governor Jarvis, "and of your addresses to our colored people, and I very much regret that circumstances and conditions are such that we can not have you visit Greenville.

"The colored people are a part of the citizenship of the State, and I very important part, and I heartily welcome and endorse any movement and influence to make them beter citizens. I believe the teachings contained in your address will be helpful to those who hear them, and I wish it were possible for you to visit more of our people and speak to more of them."

Referring to Prof. C. M. Epps, principal of the colored schools of Greenville, who is doing a good work in that section, the ex-Governor added: "He is doing likewise, a good work, but his sphere of activity, is of course very limited compared with yours. He goes to hear you and will deliver to you this message with my very high regards and best wishes in your great work to lift up and improve the conditions of a race of people, who have a place, a destiny and a duty in this Southland of ours."

A similar letter in character and tone was read from Mayor F. M. Wooten of Greenville, and one from Judge H. G. Connor, at Newbern.

RAIN STOPS AVIATORS.

Unfavorable Weather in Baltimore—Latham Views the Course.

Baltimore, Nov. 3.—Notwithstanding favorable weather predictions for today, a rain which began last night continued today and prompted the calling off of today's programme for the aviation meet which opened yesterday.

Hubert Latham viewed the course for the first time today and expressed himself as much pleased with it. Count Bertram de Lesseps, speaking on behalf of himself and his brother, Count Jacques, declared himself in similar vein.

Ralph Johnstone, who made the world's record for altitude at Belmont Park and his team mate, Hoxsey, are expected tomorrow.

LAUGHED TWELVE HOURS.

Horse Trader Had Terrible Experience—Given a Shock.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., Nov. 3.—Trading a mule for a "shaved tail" horse appealed to the humor of H. Schrapp, of this city, and he began laughing. He laughed for an hour with tears rolling down his cheeks. His friends becoming alarmed, summoned a physician, but the physician couldn't stop his hysteria. When twelve hours had passed and Schrapp was still convulsed with laughter, an electric battery was procured and the trader was given a heavy electric shock. The laughter ceased and Schrapp fell over exhausted. It was thought for a time that the man would die, but today he showed no ill effects from his long laugh.

RAN INTO SNOW STORM.

Prevented Mauritania From Making a New Ocean Record.

New York, Nov. 3.—After making the quickest trip in history across the Atlantic until almost at the gates of New York, the Cunard liner Mauretania was robbed of a new record by a blinding snow storm off the Long Island coast today. The delay necessitated by reduced speed nullified the efforts mads by the liner in her race across the ocean and she did not dock until late at night.

The storm which held the city in its grasp all day was responsible for another mishap to the big liner. Coming through the Ambrose channel the vessel swerved from the course and ran aground. It required more than half an hour's hard work by the engines to back her off.

Mrs. Novosel was trying to pour kerosene from a lamp, which ignited and an explosion followed. With her clothing ablaze she ran into the bedroom where her husband and three children were asleep. Her husband made frantic efforts to smother the flames, but the bed clothing caught fire and mother and children were burned to death.

Our process of ice making is sa itary in every particular and has stood the test of time. Only pure artesian water used, from a well one hundred and fifty feet deep, to produce live steam, afterwards condensed and frozen in clean moulds of uniform size, producing ice at a temperature suitable for all domestic and efrigerating purposes. Such ice is economical on account of no tendency to "flake" or break up when used and thus great loss is prevented.
